Autumn 2019

Principal Text: Génération A2

During the first term, students will study various topics such as the urban environment, flea markets, and travels. Emphasis will be put on the Francophone culture.

Regarding grammar and conjugation, we will study comparisons, prepositions with geographical names, pronouns, adjectives, and put some emphasis on the conjugation of regular and irregular verbs at the present tense.

Students will regularly be tested on vocabulary and grammar.

At the end of each unit, a formal assessment will be completed.

Links with fundamental values

The French curriculum links with the British Fundamental values and resilience in each lesson through discussing our friendships, values that matters, tolerance of differences. The different topics will give them the opportunity to see how one can think differently and how we can all come from a different background. Pupils will also develop resilience through the challenges of the exercises they will do, and building up the confidence in speaking in another language in front of peers. They will also learn to work in pairs, in teams and given each other support.
